Dear Wally:

I shall be away on vacation after today until the fifteenth. I wanted to get to you the three responses received today to the letter I had sent out last week (a copy of which I sent you). If there is anything you want me to do on any of these names, your usual command will be enough to begin the usual motions. I shall wait until I return from vacation before acknowledging these letters in the hope that I will have waiting from you some indication of whether you want to follow up any of them. I also expect a few more names may come in during my absence and I shall make arrangements to have these forwarded to you during my absence.

Kindest regards,

25X1
